ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS OF BERRY GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

Report Showing Satisfactory Condition of the Association, but an Unfavorable Year for Growers—Elec- tion of Officers, etc.

The meeting of the berry growers last Monday afternoon at Logan's hall was attended by about seventy-five members of the association, about four-fifths of those present being Japanese from Tropico, Burbank and Dundee. President Wilmot Parcher called the meeting to order and presided. Mr. Drendel, secretary of the association, acting as secretary of the meeting.

Mr. Parcher presented his annual report, which is here given.

Mr. Parcher's Report.

To the Berry Growers of Tropico and Glendale:

In this, my fourth annual report as president of your association, I desire to express my felicitations on the general outcome and favorable condition of the association at the end of what has proved to be one of the most unfavorable seasons for strawberry culture that we have had. Unfavorable to the grower for several reasons. First may be mentioned climatic conditions which resulted in the berries being universally soft, making them in many instances unfit for market.

Next may be mentioned the large acreage and phenomenal yield, creating an over surplus in berries never before experienced by this association.

Another factor may also be added, and not by any means the least, which has added to the unfavorable results to the grower, and that was the scarcity of help, permitting the berries to remain on the vines in many instances three days after fully ripe and then sending to market a berry almost absolutely worthless.

In speaking of large yield of berries I desire to call your attention to some figures. We have marketed, shipped and sold through the association this season 2315 tons of berries, or 6,312,815 baskets. Our total gross receipts for the same amounted to $232,901.60. Out of that amount $48 tons were sold to the canneries. Our shipping trade amounted to $50,486.23. The balance being sold locally and in Los Angeles.

With this large amount of berries to dispose of, made it a continuous warfare on the part of the management to get rid of all the fruit, and had not the canneries been willing to take more than they usually do, it would have meant the "dump" for a large amount of berries to the still greater loss to the grower.

The question has often been asked, why we placed so many berries in the canneries? The answer is easy when you consider that there probably was at least 1200 tons of berries sold on the Los Angeles market, outside the association.

We began to put berries in the canneries on May 1st and practically finished on Sept. 1st, making a total of 123 days, an average amount of berries to the canneries daily of seven tons, equal to 1400 cases per day, hence you can readily see what is would have meant to the grower to turn 1400 cases a day more into an overstocked market.

So, while the result was not as satisfactory as we could wish, we are firm in the conviction that the result to the grower was a great deal better than it would have been had we not had this favorable contract with the canneries.

The matter of crate seems to be a conundrum hard to solve to the satisfaction of all. The life of a crate is not over three years, thus making a loss of 33 1/3 per cent. per year.

Another great trouble in the crate problem is the preventing of those outside the association from using our crates. Whether we can arrive at any better solution of the crate problem I leave this meeting to solve.

In looking over the berry situation from the coming year, the question comes to us, is there a more expedient and better way for the handling of our product. We believe there is, possibly not a more expedite and expedient way, but a better way for results, viz: A grading and classification of all berries—so that every grower shall receive just what each grade of berries sell for, thus doing away with the hubbub of pro ratio that is unsatisfactory to every grower, except in extreme cases.

The question of having our own facilities or house in the city for handling our berries has been propounded to us by many, but without any recommendation on my part. I desire to leave the question to be settled by this meeting. The meeting is yours for just such questions as these to be settled and instructions and resolutions passed that the board of directors that you elect may be governed by them.

WILMOT PARCKER, Pres.

The secretary then presented the financial statement for the year, as follows:

E. L. DRENDEL, Sec'y.

After the reading of these reports a communication was read from the Japanese growers of Burbank and Dundee, making some recommendations as to changes desirable in the management of the business for the coming year. The principal change suggested was the securing of a stall or stalls in the Los Angeles market, with the object of saving the large sums paid out as commissions and for the more satisfactory handling of their product. Messrs. D. Griswold, Dutton and Babcock spoke on the subject, as did also S. Shibuya of Dundee, representing the Japanese. It was finally decided to leave this matter to the new board of directors for decision. It was asserted in the debate that the association had lost much of the trade of the retailers through not having a store in Los Angeles, as it was claimed that the goods sell better when shown to dealers, than where orders had to be given without seeing the fruit. Although it seemed to be the general desire that proposed changes should be discussed and settled at the meeting, no action of the kind was taken and the election of directors was proceeded with. Mr. Dwight Griswold, who was the unanimous choice of the Japanese growers for director, refused to serve again in that capacity and the following gentlemen were nominated and unanimously chosen as the directors for the ensuing year:

Wilmot Parcher, Sani Mihara, A. W. Dutton, M. A. Griswold and S. Shibuya. On request of the Japanese Mr. Shibuya then translated to his countrymen the president's report.

After the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, the newly elected board met and organized. Mr. Parcher being elected president and Mr. M. A. Griswold vice president. The election of other officers was deferred to be taken up Thursday evening.

RECEPTION BY LADIES OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church have planned to hold an afternoon reception on Wednesday, Jan. 22d, at the home of Mrs. C. F. Parker. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. S. Lawrence Ward, Mrs. John Colvin and Mrs. C. F. Parker will receive, and Mrs. M. P. Harrison and Mrs. Frank Albright will constitute the refreshment committee. Invitations are being issued as rapidly as possible to members of the various churches, the High School and Grammar School teachers, the members of the Carnation Lodge, the P. E. O's., the ladies of the O. E. S. and the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and those of other fraternities. Receiving hours will be from 2 until 5 o'clock. Mrs. J. W. Parker will furnish a number of musical numbers. A charming feature if the day is clear, will be the "outlook" parties, when parties will be taken to various stations on the spacious roof gardens, in care of competent guides. The sun-parlor will be used as chief port-of-call, and the ladies interested are hoping for clear weather, as many strangers and visitors to our town have been invited.

Board of Trade

Regular meeting will be held this (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested as matters of importance will be discussed.

THE EVENING NEWS ON LOMITA PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

The Evening News gives Glendale considerable space during this past week in an attempt to convey the impression that an awful outrage has been perpetrated by somebody. It speaks of the citizens of Lomita as "choking with rage" and has a good deal to say about "cement walks crumbling," "beautiful avenue ruined, etc." All of which is horribly horrid and important if true. Without passing judgment in the matter we merely recommend that any of our citizens who wish to form an intelligent opinion on the subject visit the grounds and investigate for themselves. Our reporter has been there and failed to discover any signs of the terrible condition of affairs portrayed by the news.

GLENDALE, CAL., JANUARY 11, 1908

This is 1908.

Also it is Leap Year.

Have you started in right by paying up your subscription to the News?

The special correspondent is busy again getting up a war with Japan.

The weather is a little too dry for the promise of much hay, but it ought to promote the tourist crop.

If there was the slightest tinge of yellow about this veracious weekly, we should be publishing railroad rumors. But you can catch them in the air.

An eastern subscriber writes: "The GLENDALE News is always a welcome visitor;" and another compliments us on our unpretentious but appropriate Christmas issue. All of which is appreciated by the editor, who is not yet super-human!

At Work Again

At Youngstown, O., eight thousand men have returned to work for the Republic Steel Co.; at Dayton, three thousand have resumed their places with the National Cash Register Co.; in St. Louis on the 13th, six thousand men will take up their old employment; at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco, two thousand men have been reinstated and there will be no reduction in wages. And in the hotels of Los Angeles a big influx of tourists is reported.

Who says that the country is going to the bow-wows?

The New Year So Far

Seems to us that the new year is just about like the old. We have not noticed yet that our neighbors are one whit better since January the first—not worse. As for ourselves, well, the less that's said about ourselves the better. "The world, the flesh and the devil" give promise the world over of standing out stiffly against the hosts of the unworldly, the unfleshly and the undiabolic that are closing in on the old-time enemies of the race.

The endless contest between good and evil will be waged as heretofore, and many who in the heat of conflict go down to apparent defeat will be crowned with the wreath of victory that is given to him who strives worthily.

Education in England

Ambassador Whitelaw, Reid spoke recently at Syracuse, N. Y., on this subject, and his remarks are apropos to the agitation which has resulted from the attempt in certain quarters to eliminate Christmas and all reference to the Founder of Christianity, from our public schools. Mr. Reid said in part:

"And yet I cannot help feeling that on the general subject we might profitably take a hint from the old country. Whatever else we may say about the English schools, they do turn out well-behaved, orderly boys and girls, respectful to those set over them, grounded in the morals of Christian civilization, with an instinctive sense of obedience to law and a becoming regard for the authorities that represent it. Would we be any the worse off if we had more of these qualities here?

"May it not happen that in our effort to keep all questions of religion and morals in what we consider their proper place, they may in reality be left without any place in the training of a good many children? If the interest of the republic requires that every child should be compelled to read its laws, does not the same interest as imperatively require that every child should be taught, and should be unable to escape being taught, the absolute necessity of respect for those laws and of prompt and dutiful obedience to the officers of the law?

"Does not the interest of the public further demand that the coming citizens shall have some idea of our old beliefs in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, or at least shall be thoroughly grounded in the great principles of the moral law, without which neither ordered liberty nor civilization itself can exist?

"If English schools, according to our ideas, go too far in teaching creeds, may we not be going too far the other way, in some parts of the country at least, in excluding altogether, or in giving too little space to teaching unsectarian religion and morals, to enforcing respect for authority, and to training the habit of mind that secures unhesitating obedience to law and to its officers? In London the policeman, the representative of law, often controls the biggest and angriest crowd by lifting his hand in cases where the New York policeman has to lift his club.

"Now here the giddy chauffeur for a single example out of many, gaily snaps his fingers at the uplifted club and has to be run down on a motor cycle. Even then, when caught, he is apt to tell the presumptuous policeman he means to have him 'broken' for his pains. Such a threat in London would railroad him to a long term in jail. The mere failure to stop the moment a policeman lifts his hand is generally in England unthinkable; the imagination is staggered to conceive the punishment that might befall the insensate and foolhardy person who should venture on such an unprecedented lawlessness. Some cause has produced this difference. Is it improbable that early training in a school that could be nowise escaped by the growing boy had something to do with it?

"American critics of tendencies in their own schools sometimes object to the 'fads and frills' which, as they say, keep the children from learning 'the three R's.' It will be observed that the London elementary schools likewise provide for a good many so-called 'frills.' But it must be noted that these are not permitted to take the place of the essentials. Whatever else a London child may learn at a 'provided school,' he must and does learn to read, write and cipher. Two out of the three at least he generally learns remarkably well. Nothing is apt to strike an American more, when he comes to know the product of English elementary schools, than their thoroughness in these essentials.

"Discipline in the school is generally very well maintained; pupils of both sexes are early taught obedience, courtesy and respect—sometimes even in the old way! Persuasion and kindness are first tried; the effort is to lead the pupil by reward rather than punishment. But the hardened local authorities have generally not the remotest intention of spoiling the child in order to spare the rod, and the traditional cane is still served out to the head masters and the head mistresses along with the other school supplies. It is not often used, and never without care and some thought of possible legal reprisals; but it is there, and it is used if needs must. Perhaps the lad's opinion of Archbishop Temple, at Rugby, may be taken as the ordinary schoolboy's general notion about this application of discipline when it does come: 'He's a beast, but a just beast.'

"University work proper is beyond the limits of what you are considering at these meetings, but a word in closing might be given to the Rhodes scholarships at Oxford. We have almost a hundred young American graduates there, distributed through the colleges of that venerable and illustrious university. They are chosen on examination, two from each state and territory; they are given free the best the university can offer through a three years' stay, and they receive from the fund an allowance of £300, say $1500, per year for their maintenance. The purpose of the great man who founded this trust was to increase intimate and friendly relations between the most highly educated classes of the mother country and those of her 'giant offspring of the world,' and to further a good understanding between the three nationalities included in the arrangement, England, Germany and the United States."

TUBERCULOSIS.

Laymen and Physicians Prepare to Fight Its Spread.

An Important Meeting Held at Riverside—Many Facts about the Disease Disclosed.

At the annual meeting of the Southern California League for the prevention of tuberculosis held in Riverside recently the society was given a new name and it will hereafter be known as the Southern California Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Mr. C. B. Booth of Los Angeles was re-elected president for the coming year, Dr. G. A. Evans of San Francisco first vice president and Dr. C. A. Browning of Monrovia second vice president. The association has grown rapidly since its organization five years ago which was brought about by the efforts of Dr. F. M. Pottenger. It is now a State organization and the new directorate when completed will include forty men from different parts of the State of California. One of the efforts of the association has been to include in its organization laymen and physicians alike in the fact that its physicians are to benefit and enlighten the whole body of the people in general.

The president in his opening address said in part:

"England was the first country to recognize the necessity for better hygiene in homes and the first nation to establish hospitals for those suffering from the many forms of tuberculosis.

"As early as 1859, Dr. Brehmer, of Silesia, demonstrated by actual experience that a life passed entirely out of doors in any kind of weather, good and abundant food and rest and discipline are the chief requisites to utilize to bring about a cure.

"The census of 1900 shows thirty-eight cities in the United States with a population of more than 100,000. Up to two years ago fifteen of these cities had organized societies for the prevention of tuberculosis.

During the last year, in eleven additional cities associations have been organized and of the remaining twelve, seven have organizations now under way, leaving only five unwakened.

"In California, through the initiative of Dr. F. M. Pottenger of Monrovia, this association was organized in 1902. He was the first president. He was succeeded by Dr. H. G. Brainerd and a year ago a layman was selected with a view to securing the co-operation of the general public by divesting the league of the appearance of being a medical association.

"Through the efforts of the league in conjunction with the State board of health, a beginning in remedial legislation has been brought about in the enactment of a law requiring reporting and registration not only by the medical profession, but by all to whom knowledge shall come, of a case of infectious disease.

"In the early summer of 1906 a committee was appointed by the board of directors of this association to establish a helpline station in Los Angeles where patients might be examined, the status of their cases determined and relief given. Since then 246 persons have received such care."

Dr. George H. Kress also read an illuminating paper on "The Prevention of Tuberculosis," the message of which is full of interest to every thoughtful reader. Among the most pertinent points presented, he said:

"The prevention of this disease concerns then a germ on one hand and the faults of our civilization upon the other. The reason tuberculosis should be of intense interest to all of us is that we have had friends or relatives who have died from this scourge which is responsible for the death of one of every seven to ten persons. It is a plague which fastens its clutches upon practically every one of us some time during our lives, a disease which chooses the greater portion of its victims from persons between 15 and 35 years, and yet withal a scourge which could be prevented and rendered practically innocuous did we but choose by united efforts to make it so.

"See how differently we act toward leprosy, smallpox or bubonic plague than we do toward tuberculosis. A single leper in Southern California is made a subject of newspaper comment throughout the State. A half-dozen cases of smallpox in a community leads to a radical sanitary house-cleaning and stringent quarantine measures. One of two hundred cases of bubonic plague upon the Pacific coast lead not only to Herculean efforts and expenditures upon the part of the coast cities, but to the intervention and sanitary efforts of United States public health officials.

"To prevent tuberculosis we must render the exciting cause innocuous and bring into being a civilization which will prevent the devitalization of human beings. To render the germ innocuous we must know where it is. This germ in a great majority of cases comes from the sputum of some consumptive who carelessly expectorates infection of milk coming from tuberculous cattle is probably possible and such cattle should be taken from our dairy herds. The most frequent cause, however, is the sputum of persons already affected. These should be taught by health officers how to destroy it, and the officials should know the names and address of every person so afflicted.

"When such a patient moves to another house or dies, the health officers then could perform the proper fumigation and the house would not become a death trap to those who subsequently move into it. For it is remembered that one tuberculosis patient in the course of twenty-four hours, may expectorate not only millions, but billions of these death spreading germs.

"Child labor is another evil which should be done away with. How can the child body develop into a mature being if the energy which should go to bone and muscle and tissue is spent upon menial and exhausting work under the eye of a task master? The same criticism applies to putting excessive tasks on school children.

"Our homes and our schools and other public buildings are in a sense worse than our factories. Instead of letting in God's life-giving air and light, we seem to use our best efforts to keep it out. Parks are a God-send to the poor and should be encouraged everywhere.

"Vicious habits, I fear, we shall always have with us. Alcoholism and fast living of any kind be it the strenuous life of business men or the useless and vicious existence of rakes, always are detrimental.

"If you agree that it is worth our while to fight against such causes of tuberculosis, do your part in setting an example not only for Southern California, but for the State at large.

ARE COLDS CONTAGIOUS?

In answer to the above question in Our Dumb Animals, we have received the following from a prominent Boston physician whose name we are not at liberty to use:

A young man, with a severe cold joined his family who were living at a cottage connected with a large hotel in New Brunswick. In about five days four members of the family had the disease. All were associated intimately with people at the hotel where the disease gradually spread, until there had been thirty-one cases. This therefore appears to be a clear example of contagion, for had the disease been caused by climatic changes a large proportion of the cases would have occurred about the same time.

It is very unusual if ever a person takes cold from exposure to the vicissitudes of the weather. It is the artificial atmosphere of overheated, ill-ventilated steam cars, electric, public-buildings, offices and houses where one or more persons may be infecting the air by sneezing, coughing and often expectorating, in which most persons take cold.

Dr. Bryant was immediately summoned and he conveyed the injured boy to his home on Cedar street and also attended to the fracture.

Mr. Charles Stothard has just returned to Glendale after an absence of two months in Manitoba, where he was called to attend to important business. Mr. Stothard reports rain all along the coast from Victoria southward into California, on his return, and a particularly wet downpour in San Francisco. Business seemed very quiet all along the line.

Charlie Bidwell of Glendale was acquitted in Judge Wilbur's court in Los Angeles the other day of burglary, being accused of having entered a tent-house belonging to Mr. Ward and taking therefrom a small savings bank containing $25. There was very direct testimony showing that he was guilty and other testimony to the effect that he was somewhere else.

The ladies of St. Mark's Guild met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Penn on Adams street. Mrs. James A. Farrell presided and a great deal of work was done on two quilts that were on hand, which finishes the winter's work. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Pitcher on Thursday, the 23d inst.

Friday evening H. L. Bulkeley received the sad tidings of the death of his uncle, W. T. Bulkeley of Kansas City, Mo., on December 27th, and also that his aunt, Mrs. W. T. Bulkeley was dangerously ill. Two years ago this winter they spent some time visiting in Glendale and made many friends. The deceased had been in the employ of the Missouri Pacific Railway company for the past thirty years, being passenger conductor most of the time.

Mr. C. E. Barnard, only brother of Mrs. R. D. Goss, and a half-brother of Dr. A. L. Bryant, will, accompanied by his wife and only daughter, arrive in Glendale on Friday evening. They expect to spend the remainder of the winter among their many relatives in Glendale. On Wednesday they visited the Grand Canyon, leaving Silver City, where they have been since the 1st of September, on account of their daughter's health, a few days since.

On Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Aid Society held a very pleasant and enjoyable meeting in the home of Mrs. Dr. Bryant, Third streets. Mrs. R. Z. Remsburg, vice president, occupied the chair and about thirty were present. On account of the resignation of Mrs. J. N. Burton from the presidency, an election for that office will probably take place at the next meeting, on the first Tuesday in February at the home of Mrs. Moyse.

A recent happy affair was the old-fashioned pioneer dinner given by Mrs. J. R. Hawkins to thirty of her Wyoming friends. After a sumptuous dinner, music, games and dancing claimed the attention of the guests, who are delighted with Glendale and vicinity as a winter resort. As no blizzards were raging, much of the fun and feasting took place out in the golden sunshine. Among the guests were Mrs. Trowbridge, Mrs. Olds, Mrs. Zittel, and a niece of Mrs. Hawkins, who has for some time been a house-guest.

A very jolly reunion of former friends and classmates took place on Thursday in the homes of Mrs. Emma Birket and Mrs. R. D. Goss on Fifth street. A banquet of all the seasonable good things, plenty of flowers and sunshine, were only "features" of a day crowded with pleasure. Mrs. Fred Sawyer and Mrs. S. G. Sawyer, guests and classmates of Mrs. Birket, who are spending the winter months in Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Bodel and Mr. and Mrs. Stanton of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Carkuff spending the winter season in Whittier, all former friends of Mrs. Goss. The entire party, including the host and hostesses, are former residents of New Sharon, Iowa.

The members of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church held a meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George E. Williams, Cedar street. Mrs. Ogg occupied the chair, and Mrs. Williams acted as secretary pro tem. Many plans for future work were offered and discussed, among them very original and feasible plans for raising "sidewalk money." A donation of silk-scaps will be asked for and also there may be a "Ladies' exchange" when bright ideas concerning church work will be used as currency. Mrs. Knight is taking charge of the proper arrangement of household receipts which are handed in for the new cook book, and asks that friends and patrons of the church will remember to hand in one or more favorite receipt. Sewing will again be taken up in the near future and a unique plan for a jolly social is well under way under the management of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. J. E. Colvin, Mrs. S. Galloway and Mrs. Ogg, the committee on arrangements being composed of officers of the society.

BACK FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

A Good Mining Prospect.

Mr. J. M. Sprinkle and his son, Clarence, Fred Evans and Messrs. Kuck, Roberts and Davis, of Los Angeles, have returned from a three-weeks' outing in the mountains of San Bernardino county.

They were at a point twenty-two miles east of Victorville on the Santa Fe road. Their camping place was at an elevation of 5000 feet and the nights were pretty cool, there being ice in the shaded canyons all the time. They report all game except Jack rabbits on the plains, rather scarce.

Mr. Evans and some other parties have mining claims at this place that show very encouraging results for the work done. The ore vein is said to be sixty feet wide and 6000 feet long through the company's claims. Assays show it to be a high-grade in gold. The ore is found in pyrites and will be worked by the cyanide process. Probably the most encouraging feature of the development is the fact that the ore increases in richness as the vein is developed from the surface. The development consists of three shafts, the deepest 120 feet and two others of 70 feet each, with two or three cross cuts of about 60 feet.

The mine is supplied with bunk houses and other necessary buildings, including a pump house where the pump is installed for taking water out of the shafts. The country is favorable in every respect for mining work as there is an abundance of wood and water. The Santa Fe railroad at Hesperia is only fourteen miles distant. In the vicinity are the Rose and the Greenleaf mines, both of which are paying properties.

Mr. Evans and associates hope soon to install a mill for the working of their ore, a large tonnage of which is now, on the dump.

"QUICK MY RIFLE," AT THE LIBRARY.

This story of love and adventure in a historic setting is now being loaned from the Glendale library, this being the first library on the coast to circulate a copy of this new book, just out, and being placed on sale in the large cities of the East, accompanied by a painting descriptive of one of the thrilling scenes depicted.

The book is written by A. L. Sykes and C. P. Jones and contains considerable information in regard to Thibet, besides being of captivating interest. The Philadelphia Press and Ledger of Dec. 7th, 1907, says of it: "Thibet, the forbidden land" of the Orient, is chosen as a setting altogether new in fiction, and furnishes the background for a story altogether new in its treatment and its thrilling and compelling interest. It deals with the Thibetan struggle for national liberty in which five Americans are the heroes, and love triumphs.

The book can be had through Cunningham, Curtis & Welch, of Los Angeles, but is being loaned at the library on short time to supply the demands of readers.

GUESTS PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

Mrs. Robert H. Morris, mother of Mrs. C. E. Stanley, held in reserve an interesting surprise, when she invited a few old-time friends now in Los Angeles and several of Glendale to drink a cup of tea with her on Wednesday afternoon, January 8th, stating in her invitation notes that in some way she always marked the victory of General Jackson at New Orleans upon this date.

Most entertaining conversation upon topics of a wide scope was enjoyed by the guests until they were served delicious refreshments, among which was revealed a brightly lighted birthday cake, telling the age of the cultured and esteemed hostess, who was showered with happy congratulations.

"Y" Notes

The Y's met at the home of Ray Sherman, Third and H streets. After reading the 145th Psalm, prayer and the usual business, a very pleasant hour was spent. Five new members were added to the roll, which is very encouraging. Adjourned to meet at the home of Loren Grant, Sixth and Verdugo Road. The presence of all young people is very earnestly desired.

Notice

The Glendale Gun Club at its last meeting decided to raise the initiation fee to $2.50 after February 1st. All desirous of joining the club can do so at the present time by paying $1.00, which member can have the use of the ranges, traps, etc., and blue rock targets at cost. This is not a money-making scheme, but strictly a social club. Join now at $1.00 while you can.

A Good Investment

To be good, must be safe. A savings account in the Bank of Glendale offers you absolute security, not only because all loans are made to responsible people of Glendale or on Glendale real estate, but because its board of directors who approve all loans are from our best and most conservative business men, and whose judgment may be depended on to protect the interest of its depositors.

MICHIGANDERS' PICNIC.

Will be held at Echo Park Saturday, January 25th, next. This will be their third annual picnic and arrangements are being made to insure its being the most enjoyable, as it will no doubt be the most numerously attended. Should the day be rainy there will be a postponement for one week. Those attending are asked to bring luncheons.

Bulletin of Progress

With December, California closes a prosperous year, despite a number of untoward circumstances which worked to the detriment of agriculturists. Heavy floods on the rivers in the early spring, and partial failure of the prune, peach and apricot crops seemed to threaten trouble to growers, but with heavy returns on other produce and increased prices for all, the sum of the year brought general conditions above the average.

There has been extraordinary activity in railroad building, both in steam and electric, and while there has been a temporary reduction of construction forces in this line, assurances are given that there will be even greater activity during the coming year, with increased demand for labor.

Arrangements are under way for the subdivision of many large tracts of land, with inducements for the small farmer in all parts of the state, and the wonderful influx of settlers which marked 1907 will be outdone in 1908. Reports received by The California Promotion Committee from all parts of the middle west and eastern states and Europe indicate that there will be an unprecedented rush to California.

Building operations in all the cities of the state have been above normal during the entire year, and reports indicate that this will be continued during next year. The coming of the fleet of warships will bring 20,000 men, for whom food supplies will have to be provided, thus adding increased market for California products and increased demand for labor.

The following summary shows California conditions from November 29 to December 23, inclusive, and for the year 1907:

San Francisco building permits, $3,910,085; year, $58,970,541.

San Francisco building permits since the fire, $93,276,605.

Los Angeles building permits, $383,267; year, $14,234,421.

Oakland building permits, $290,579.

San Diego building permits, $79,715; year, $2,176,865.

San Francisco real estate sales, 450; value $1,000,000; year, $31,624,122.

San Francisco bank clearings, $123,307,458.46; year, $2,141,181,298.08.

San Francisco bank clearings, December, 1906, $196,216,734.68.

San Francisco bank clearings, December, 1905, $161,316,530.53.

Los Angeles bank clearings, $29,522,636; year, $577,569,639.48.

Oakland bank clearings, $5,253,824.99; year, $137,681,207.12.

San Jose bank clearings, $1,682,445.97; year, $28,889,386.81.

Sacramento bank clearings, $3,112,572.76.

Stockton bank clearings, $1,664,053.87.

San Francisco customs receipts, $623,994.11; year, $8,154,715.38.

Vandalism

Some person or persons, prompted by that desire to do mischief which so frequently results in the perpetrators winding up their career behind prison bars, pried the cement globe off one of the pillars on Glendale avenue that marks the Orange Grove Tract, a few days ago. It is presumably the work of a small gang of boys who infest our town and who are coming to be recognized as public nuisances.

JOINT INSTALLATION.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning Old Glory was unfurled from the flagstaff that surmounts G. A. R. Hall, and members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps assembled and held joint installation ceremonies of the recently elected officers of the post and corps, at the hall. Past Post Commander Theodore T. At the close of the exercises a dinner was provided at which over one hundred were served with the many substantials and delicacies with which the ladies of the corps always serve their guests.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ENOCH.

The funeral services of Mrs. Laura A. Enoch, wife of A. J. Enoch, were held Tuesday afternoon from the family residence on Brand boulevard, and were conducted by J. W. Owens, pastor of the Christian Advent church of Los Angeles, of which religious denomination Mrs. Enoch was a most devoted member.

Several beautiful solos were sung by Mrs. Davis, member of the choir of the Christian Advent church. At the close of the services at the home the casket containing the remains of Mrs. Enoch was placed on the funeral bier of the Forest Lawn cemetery and surrounded by the pall-bearers was conveyed to the cemetery, a block distant, where the interment occurred.

Many beautiful flowers were placed by loving hands on the bier of Mrs. Enoch, who was a patient, uncompaining sufferer. Several months since she went to Fresno in the hope that she might be benefited by the change, but owing to the nature of her malady the benefits derived were not lasting and Mrs. Enoch realizing that she was growing weaker each day requested to be brought home.

Sunday evening the spirit of this patient, loving Christian woman winged its flight to that bourn from whence no traveler ever returns. Mrs. Enoch is survived by a widower, — Enoch, four sons, Albert, Calvin, Volney and Wade Enoch, and a little daughter, Hermilla Enoch.

TOWN AND VILLAGE IMPROVEMENT.

Many well-meaning and ambitious citizens of our lesser cities and towns write to ask what is the first work to be taken in hand after formation of an improvement society. Last week the writer visited a village from which such a quarry emanated, and found weeds and weeds and weeds. All the streets were lined with them, and they were upon every vacant lot and upon a few not so vacant as the mind of the dweller thereon. On some of these lots the weeds were eight feet high, and were evidently left to hide mounds of brush, tin cans, old mattresses and other rubbish.

A careful investigation of the lot most littered with such material proved that less than a wagonload was of a non-combustible nature. A general clean-up and subsequent burning would work a truly wonderful transformation. A blind man, wandering through the streets, could have told by weeds encountered on either edge of the sidewalk that he was in a veritable "Sleepy Hollow," what we call in Southern California a "back-number town." It is somewhat pathetic that the residents, having eyes, see not. On the other hand one gets out of patience at such thoughtless inquirers as to what first to do. In the case under discussion it is almost necessary to have the weeds removed in order that one may discover the exact whereabouts of the village.

In other parts, as well as about these weed-grown lots, were dilapidated fences, unpainted houses and outbuildings, dead and dying trees, worn-out wagons, buggies and farm machinery and all manner of litter that a live community would not tolerate. One cannot but conclude that such communities have a low standard of citizenship, certainly they are lacking in self-respect, and no home-seeker would settle among them. That this latter statement has a foundation in fact may be noted by the absence of new houses, none evidently having been built for several years. Unless there is an awakening on the part of the present population, none will ever be. Luckily, we have but few such shiftless communities.—L. A. Times, Dec. 29, 1907.

SALT LA CANADA-GLENDALE RAILWAY.

As outlined in the Herald heretofore, the Salt Lake will no doubt at due time build the small gap of two miles now existing between the termini of its Pasadena line which runs through Highland Park, and its Glendale line, thus opening up the magnificent La Canada valley, and forming a "Loop Route" which would command a large passenger traffic, as well as form a tourist route which would pay a big patronage all the year round. A map of the new line as it would appear is shown above.

The above is from our esteemed contemporary, the Highland Park Herald. As Tom Sawyer would say, "It sounds well," and the map alluded to, showing the proposed route, is fair to look upon. But how the optimistic editor gets from Altadena to Verdugo Canyon over "a small gap of two miles," when it's hardly an inch short of five, is a fine specimen of journalistic license, and we don't believe it can be did!
